Like, lust or love... your choice

Lantana's menu concept has been revitalized, and allows you to select what your heart is palpitating for, with small, medium or large selections. Chef Alex, Chef de Cuisine, adds his innovative twist to the new menu with his refreshing take on global cuisine while creatively adding American flair to each dish. This new menu features IW street tacos, as a small savory option, Indio fried chicken, as a medium comfort food, or seafood "casino" as a large temptation.

Crab Truffles with preserved lemon aioli

For the truffles:

8 oz
1/4 cup
1/4 cup
1 Tablespoon
1 Tablespoon
1 Tablespoon
panko bread crumbs

fresh Dungeness lump crab meat mayonnaise
panko bread crumbs
dijon mustard
finely chopped parsley
finely chopped basil and tarragon
as needed

Preheat oven to 375-400 degrees, prepare a small baking pan with parchment paper and set aside. Drain crab meat and pat dry if wet. Combine all ingredients together and mix gently, breaking up any really big pieces of crab. Form into 1 ounce balls using a small ice cream scoop and place on a plate with panko bread crumbs, roll completely in panko bread crumbs and transfer to a parchment lined baking pan, continue with all the crab mixture. Bake for 5 to 8 minutes or until crab is set and light golden brown, serve hot.

For the aioli:

1/2 preserved lemon chopped very fine
zest and juice of 1 fresh lemon 3 Tablespoons of fresh chopped chives
1/2 cup of mayonnaise

Combine all ingredients and mix well, serve with truffles.
