NoMI NAMED ONE OF THE “WORLD’S TOP POWER DINING SPOTS” BY FORBES
NoMI Among List of Magnetic Restaurants Where Influential People Choose to Dine

May 29, 2007 – CHICAGO – NoMI is honored to have been acknowledged as one of the “World’s Top Power Dining Spots” in a list published on May 22, 2007 by Forbes.com.

NoMI shares this honor with nine other esteemed restaurants around the globe, including: Maison Blanche, Paris; Antica Trattoria della Pesa, Milan; Cepe, Beijing; Pizzeria Mozza, Los Angeles; The Oval Room, Washington, D.C.; The Ivy, London; The China Club, Hong Kong; Four Seasons, New York City; and Jamavar, Bangalore.

Writer Pascale Le Draoulec depicted NoMI by saying, “Sometimes it’s all about seducing the client. The dramatic views of Chicago’s skyline from NoMI, high up in the Chicago Park Hyatt, will do the trick, which is why movers and shakers are willing to leave “the loop” to dine here. Named for Chicago’s renowned North Michigan Avenue, which it looks out on, NoMI features French -inspired cuisine in a 120-seat Tony Chi restaurant appointed with museum quality art.”

NoMI is nestled on The Seventh Floor of Park Hyatt Chicago, located at 800 North Michigan Avenue. Features include cuisine prepared with the finest and freshest ingredients; breathtaking views of Lake Michigan and Water Tower Park; an extensive wine collection and exquisite private dining facilities. For more information or reservations, please call 312 335 1234, or visit www.NoMIrestaurant.com.
