

ALTITUDE

restaurant

$52.80 for Two

One Week Only: February 23 – 29, 2008

Description of Event

Denver Restaurant Week is a seven-day celebration of the culinary scene in Denver. For the week of February 23-29, 2008, participating restaurants will offer a multi-course dinner for the fixed price of $52.80 for two, or $26.40 for one (not including tax or gratuity).

Restaurant week offers gastronomes and gourmets an extraordinary opportunity to explore some of Denver's classic restaurants and some of the city's newest to sample a variety of the exceptional dishes prepared by Denver chefs at incredibly reasonable rates. Taste everything Denver has to offer!

Description of Restaurant

Altitude, named for Denver's "Mile High" elevation, serves contemporary American cuisine in comfortable elegance. Altitude offers a twist on traditional favorites striking the right balance of food, hospitality, and comfort. Experience the height of comfort food.

Prefix Menu

First Course

- ❖ Goat Cheese and Caramelized Onion Tart, Dried Cherry Reduction
- ❖ Roasted Tomato and Lentil Soup with Cilantro Crème Fraiche

Second Course

- ❖ Grilled Pork Tenderloin, Chive and Mascarpone Polenta, Roasted Root Vegetables and Apple Red Wine Gastrique
- ❖ Ancho Chile and Honey Glazed Chicken, Braised Heirloom Beans, Corn Custard and Jalapeño Crema

Third Course

- ❖ Duo of Spanish Hot Chocolate Served Demi Tasse with a Cinnamon Churro, Mini Crème Caramel garnished with Macerated Berries