New venue for wedding in the heart of Bangkok

"We chose to have our wedding at Hyatt Regency Bangkok Sukhumvit because this place caters to all our needs. The hotel is the newest in town, situated in the heart of Bangkok with convenient transportation – especially with a direct connection to BTS station. We also felt like the hotel is modern and sophisticated, but not too grand. The ballroom is also stylish and spacious."

"Furthermore, the food deserves recognition, as this is the most important detail for me. It is significant for me that the guests have a delightful meal, which apart from being a beautiful space, the venue also fits very well with all my concept!"

“Personally I also have the impression that this place surpasses the definition of a “good hotel”. Hyatt Regency Bangkok Sukhumvit possesses the staffs, who not only understand the demands of the guests but also pay attention and deliver to all of my requests. They do not give you that 'hard-sell' vibe, but offer 'care' to the guests.”

Crafting a magnificent wedding, by simulating another!

“As we all know, we already had our wedding back in Sweden - but I also wanted to have our wedding in Thailand. I feel that this is my way of honoring the bride, my friends in the entertainment industry, the people I respected, and also my family. All of this comes to the conclusion I decided to link this wedding to the one in Sweden, hence the decorations that show the atmosphere of what we had back there. We implemented the Swedish wedding to the main theme together with minimalistic decorations. It was also complemented by flowers to fill in space, whilst not making it too sophisticated.”

“In the ballroom, we hung the photos of our wedding in Sweden from the ceiling as the decoration, which to me is my favorite. We only had 10 VIP tables in the room, with the rest being a cocktail setup.”

A short, yet heartwarming ceremony.

“My wedding was like other weddings, we had the general sequence (cutting the cake and tossing the bouquet). We tried to keep it short, taking out what we felt unnecessary because we did not want to bore the guests. However; we still pay attention to the families and our guests of honor.”

“The wedding turned out to be a pleasant, hearty ceremony, to the point that I felt like this was more of a party. After all, we had our closest friends as the MC. (Khun Ling, Khun Tonhorm, and Khun Eve)”

"I did not have any personal favorite moments, as I felt that everything was equally important. It is not only about the ceremony, but the feelings, the overall atmosphere, and the honorable guests that made this wedding special."

"We did not feel pressure planning this wedding at all, as there was nothing to really worry about. We had a highly supportive team, involving the photographers, wedding planners, decorating team, or even Workpoint. These are very attentive groups of people who really put forward their efforts for this wedding."

"The venue, in addition, is also qualified with a professional wedding team. They showed their understanding while paying good attention to the guests. Even if you come in without any plan they would still be supportive whilst providing useful suggestions. Khun Luknok (Associate Director of Events) is also very mindful. She was our main contact person who was always there to personally help us with the planning and details, and I was truly impressed."

"Choosing Hyatt Regency Bangkok Sukhumvit as our venue was truly the perfect decision for our 'Wedding in Thailand.' Everything went very smoothly, which gave me a very nice sentiment."
