

RED WINE

Five reds here, five very different personalities. A structured Bordeaux blend from France. A dark, brooding Syrah from Chile. A sun-soaked Nero d'Avola from Sicily. A silky Pinot Noir from Burgundy. A crisp, oak-kissed Tempranillo from Spain. Light to full, fruit-forward to earthy, easy evening to long deliberate dinner. The only wrong choice is not making one.

SPARKLING WINE

Pop. Hiss. Fizz. There's a reason sparkling wine opens every good list. It sets the tone and lifts the room. It's exactly right at any hour. Ours is chosen for people who know what they want — and for those still figuring it out. Either way, start here.

WHITE WINE

The mineral bite of a Spanish Verdejo. To the gentle warmth of a French Semillon. White wine travels well, and so does this list. Italy brings the easy-drinking Pinot Grigio. Chile brings the Chardonnay. Together they cover every tempo the night might take: bright and sharp for the early hours, fuller and rounder as the evening settles in. Pick your pace. And our Wink Guides will pour accordingly.

Did You Know

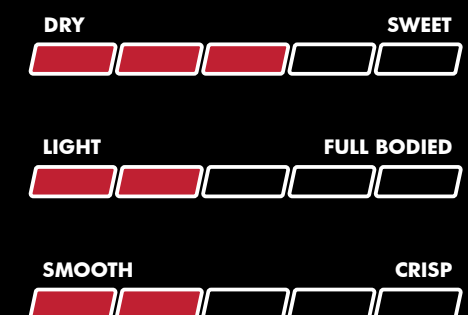

Did you know that wine has been bringing people together for over 8,000 years? At Wink, we've been doing it for slightly less time — but we've made up for it. Sparkling, white, rose, red. Four sections, one mission. Whatever you're celebrating, whoever you're with, there's a glass on this list that fits the moment perfectly.

ROSE WINE

Blush, pour, sip. Rosé sits in a category all its own — bright enough to open the evening, interesting enough to carry it through. Two here worth knowing: a dry, mineral Grenache blend from the sun-baked hills of the Ardeche, and a soft, strawberry-laced Sangiovese from Ruffino in Italy. Different in character, equal in charm. The hardest part is choosing one.
